

EDITORIAL INFORMATION 2017

The 2017 Nominata reflects the intense work developed during the year, composing the period from January to October. The number of submissions remained almost the same. Once again, A&FR was the highlight in the SPELL ranking for 2015, where we are the top-ranked Journal in the area of Administration and Accounting, when considered impact for two years, and stand at the second place, when considered five years. A qualitative change resulted from a lot of joint effort was the anticipation of the editions' release date to the beginning of every four months, instead of the end of this period. The plans for 2018 involve expanding the theoretical essay as an alternative of additional communication to the theoretical-empirical work, greater availability of blog posts and effort to reduce publication deadlines by lines of research.

I would like to thank the authors, reviewers, readers, Associate Editors, Ad-Hoc Editors, Editorial Board members, service providers and editorial assistants who had the work developed with professionalism, confidentiality, respect, and great affection for the generation of knowledge in the scope of A&FR.

The Ad-Hoc Editors correspond to a recent participation experience of researchers who acted as editors specifically for some articles submitted by professors near to the Scientific Committee or for cases of great specificity.

In 2017, we add the role of Ad-Hoc Editors by lines of research: Claudio Wanderley, Marcia Mendes De Luca, Bruno Salotti, Andrea Maria Accioly Fonseca Minardi, Raquel de Freitas Oliveira, and Francisco Henrique Figueiredo de Castro Junior. Also, we had the contribution of Ad-Hoc Editor by article. In this particular I would like to thank to Josete Florêncio dos Santos e Marcelo Francini Girão Barroso.

We have financial support from FINEP/PROIM, SIBi-USP, CNPq, and CAPES, which provided the activities development within the established challenges. Similarly, I would like to thank our service providers who contributed to the accomplishment of our work with professionalism and attention. We refer specifically to Eduarda Bodaneze de Oliveira, Eliane Simões Pereira, Evandro Lisboa Freire, Luiza Carvalho, José Couto, Kris Gillespie, Letra1 Serviços Editoriais, Libre Traduções, and SOSTexto.

I am particularly grateful to SciELO for its support in improving the ScholarOne management control system, which provided a significant change in the management platform for the Journal. In this sense, the support given to the implementation and improvement of the system was vital. Back in the year of 2015, we were accepted by Scopus and this new indexation seems to be very promising in terms of external visibility. We received 152 articles submitted between January and October, 2017, with 127 reviewers analyzing 68 researches, which provided a desk rejection of 55% and a total rejection of 62%. We had 60 new reviewers incorporated into the group that provided demand response. We published 25 original articles and 1 original essay in editions 73, 74, and 75. It is very relevant for A&FR to participate in the different lines of research and the distribution is emphasized in the lines of Accounting for External Users and Markets.
